Instructors' interactions with students

Instructor treated students with respect.
Instructor was sensitive to class difficulties.
Instructor was willing to help students outside of class.
Instructor gave students feedback without embarrassing them in front of others.
Instructor seemed to take an active, personal interest in the progress of the class.
Instructor gave individual attention to students.
Instructor was concerned about students' progress in the course.
Instructor was friendly and sympathetic in manner.
Instructor encouraged interaction among students.
Instructor was sensitive when I had difficulty understanding subject matter.
Instructor showed a genuine desire to teach.
Instructor was approachable.