Laboratory

Fundamental principles needed to understand lab experiments were dealt with prior to lab assignments.

Requirements of the lab assignments were made clear.

Lab assignments/projects were challenging—not routine exercises.

Ample opportunity was available to ask questions in the lab.

Lab manual(s) or hand-out sheets were helpful in understanding lab assignments.

If you came prepared for the lab, adequate time was allotted for completion of lab assignments.

Criteria for grading lab reports were clearly specified.

Lab reports were graded and returned promptly.

Constructive feedback was provided in lab.

Lab experiences helped to clarify the lecture material.

Rate the overall quality of the laboratory.

Lab instructor provided adequate individual attention.

Equipment was readily available for the lab.