Teaching-related items

Conferences with the instructor were helpful.

Writing on blackboard was readable.

The instructor's spoken language was understandable.

The instructor comprehended the questions that were asked by students.

The instructor gave students adequate time to copy boardwork before erasing.

The instructor created an atmosphere that was open and positive.

The instructor structured classroom activities to ensure equitable participation by students.